Recycle Your Food Waste California passed a law, Senate Bill 1383, to improve air quality by reducing greenhouse gas emissions from organic waste disposal such as food waste and landscape waste. CalRecycle reports that landfilled organic waste decomposes and generates methane gas which is significant source of greenhouse gas emissions contributing to global climate change. Reducing methane gas through actions like organic waste recycling will reduce emissions and the impacts of climate change. To comply with this mandate, communities are required to establish and maintain a Food Waste Recycling Program for residential customers. For more information about SB 1383, please visit: www.calrecycle.ca.gov/climate/slcp

Recycle your food by following these steps:

1. Collect and place food scraps and food waste in a plastic bag.
2. Place bagged food waste inside your organics (green) barrel.
